

It is easy and normal to have moments where you feel depressed or down on yourself. If you have these moments often, or are having a day where you feel very unlucky, here is how to help yourself realise that you actually are lucky, and should feel happy.

Steps

Luck List !

- Family

- Home

- Health

- Freedom

1 Write a luck list. Have you ever felt that you weren't lucky? Lots of people feel that they aren't lucky, and that no one has it worse than them. Truth is, a lot of people probably have it worse than you. Here's a good way to realize how lucky you really are.

- Get a sheet of paper. If you plan to make a luck list on a regular basis, you may wish to get a notebook or journal.
- Label your paper 'My Luck List'.
- Record everything good that has happened to you today. They can be extraordinary things, or things normally taken for granted, like being healthy, or things that are extremely obscure and apply only to you, like seeing a pretty flower.

- The moment something happens to you that makes you feel lucky or good, write it down in the notebook.
- Occasionally read over your list to help you realize how lucky you are.

- Finished.

- Don't force yourself to think of things. If you can't think of anything, just put the notebook in a safe place for a while.

2 Think about things you normally take for granted, such as having hot water or the Internet. Challenge yourself go without it. If you find it is too important to do without, consider how lucky you are to have access to it.

What Earth Would Look Like If Only 100 People Lived Here

Courtesy of Jack Hagley

Of 100 people, 70 would not have access to the internet; 48 live on less than $2 a day; 75 have cell phones; and 87 would have safe water.

3 Listen to, watch or read the news every once in a while. You're sure to hear about plenty of bad things happening to people around the world.

Consider how lucky you are not be involved.

4 Remember positive things that have happened to you in the past. Think about the circumstances that created those events and whether they can be recreated.

If not, consider how

lucky you are that

everything

co-ordinated to make

that event occur.

5 Remind yourself of
how lucky you are.

Remind yourself that you're lucky just to
have running water,
food to eat
whenever you want

it, good health, and even access to a computer. Here's how you do it:

Understand how

fortunate you are compared to most people in the world. Remind yourself that many people in the world

do not have many basic things that you take for granted. It's likely that you've never had to deal with

real hunger, that you're healthy and
can see a doctor
fairly easily, that
you have enough
clothes to stay

warm, and that you
don't feel
oppressed in the place where you live. This is more than many people

can say.

Tips

- Don't let things discourage you from reaching your goal.

- If you have a home, a

roof to sleep

under, a fridge
with food and 3
meals a day,
you are luckier
than 75% of the

world.
